Hello Mercedes-Benz, this is a explorative Test.

Receipt of confirmation of your booking for a vehicle test drive is not in itself a guarantee that you will be able to conduct the test drive on the date and time specified in your confirmation of booking. Each dealership reserves its right to grant Right of Access / Admission of any person to its premises. You will be required to sign an Indemnity Form on the day of your vehicle test drive. All other conditions imposed by the dealership must be strictly adhered to, failing which your vehicle test drive booking may be automatically revoked at the sole discretion of the individual dealership. The colour as well as other specifications of the vehicle that you choose online to test drive may in fact vary from the actual vehicle that is available to be driven during your vehicle test drive. Unforeseen circumstances beyond the control of the individual dealership may result in a cancellation / rescheduling of your vehicle test drive booking.
